The IVFSA has over 140 members from 17 countries dedicated to the application of forensics to the veterinary and wildlife sciences. At its annual conference, IVFSA brings together professionals in the fields of humane law enforcement, veterinary medicine, wildlife pathology and research, forensic science, law, and animal welfare to discuss casework, research, and service to animals and people.

Members receive access to online discussion forums, topics of interest, case studies, and bimonthly newsletters, annual conferences where the latest technologies, procedures, and practices are discussed, student presentation opportunities, and a community of supportive, like-minded professionals.
